Taxi Zones and Fares Proposed by Board Revealed by Glacken

To be Seven Zones With Central Overhang Area; Fares from 35c to $1

Details of the proposed taxicab zones and fares on which a public hearing will be held by the Village Board on Monday night, March 27, were announced today by Trustee William F. Glacken. When the present Taxicab Ordinance was adopted, the zone and fare sections were omitted for future action to permit a further study of the details.

Since then conferences have been held with the taxicab operators, with a view to seeing they received fair treatment as well as the traveling public. Mr. Glacken said it costs 14 cents a mile to operate a cab, without taking the pay of the driver into consideration. This, he added, was due to the high cost of accident insurance, compensation, gasoline and expense in general.

The proposed ordinance provides for dividing the village into seven zones, with fixed fares and an overhang area north and south of the railroad tracks in the center of the village. This extends from Randall ave., on the north to West Merrick road on the south, and from Long Beach ave., on the west to Henry st., and Harding pl., on the east.

Taxicab passengers desiring to enter this area from any zone north or south of the tracks would pay an additional 15 cents, but those traveling from any zone north or south of the railroad right of way, to any zone would have to pay the total of the fares for each zone traversed.

Areas included in Zones

The zone areas would be bounded as follows:

Zone A, taking in the North end of the village from the Roosevelt line would start in the south at West Seaman ave., at the Baldwin boundary, run along Seaman ave., to Pennsylvania, mile to north to Craig ave., along Craig ave., and Stevens st., to Union st., south a block to Independence ave., and then east to the Freeport-Merrick line.

The fare from this zone to the station for one or two persons would be 50 cents.

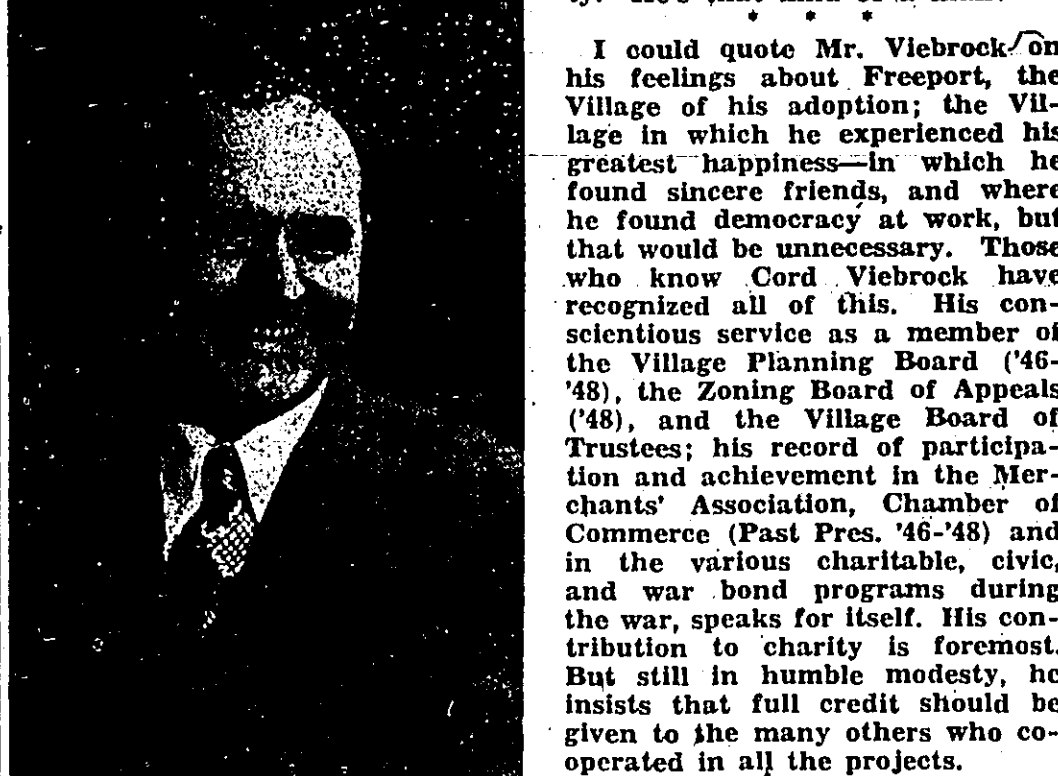

Zone B, would lie immediately south of one A, with the railroad right of way at its southern boundary, and the fare would be 35 cents for each passenger.

Zone C, would extend from the railroad tracks to Atlantic ave., in the south except for a jog to the west running along Seaman st., to Elliott pl., south to Southside ave., thence through Locust ct., to Atlantic ave., along which the line would run east and then swing south to include Buffalo and Albany aves. The fare for this zone would be 35 cents for each passenger.

Zones D and E would include the jog cut out of Zone C, run along Florence ave., on the east to Westend ave., south to Meister blvd., east to South Bayview ave., south to Bryant st., then crossing Randall Bay diagonal (Continued on Page 4)

Eddie Vasil INTRODUCES ... Cord Viebrock

"Pop Viebrock"; its been "Pop" to the thousands of school children and residents of Freeport since 1933 when he started his ice cream-lunch-ette on So. Main st., it's still "Pop" now that he's Village Trustee; and it would continue to be "Pop Viebrock" regardless what high position he would hold in the community. He's that kind of a man!

CORD VIEBROCK

Mr. Viebrock values highly many things that the native born American take for granted. He left Germany in 1929, a boy of fourteen, coming to the United States to seek his fortune and to become a part of this great country. He found true democracy here; equal rights, equal opportunity, tolerance, understanding, and appreciation. He became a good citizen, and his citizenship has become his most valued possession.

Cord Viebrock married the former Henrietta Waack in 1931. The couple have three children: a son, William, and two daughters, Mary and Helen. Cord is eligible for the highest degree, He started his first store in New York City in 1916 and has been in the food, and ice cream-soda business ever since. He learned the art of making candy and ice cream, and of preparing food from beginning to end. Each subsequent store that he opened came further and further out into Long Island until he located in Freeport in 1933. "I appreciate," said Pop Viebrock, "the support my fellow Freeporters have given me in my business; without that support my family and I could not have stayed to become one of you."

Sorrow came to the Viebrock household during the war when word was received that their son was killed while in the armed services of this country. Their daughter is married to William C. Zimmis. They reside with their three children at 193 Putnam ave. Freeport. Mr. and Mrs. Viebrock try to spend whatever moments they can spare from their long hours out the store with their grandchildren. Cord is a member of the Freeport Republican Club, Freeport Lodge of Elks, Masons, Chamber of Commerce, and the Merchants' Association.

He is a prime advocate of the Administration of former Mayor Cyril C. Ryan because he feels that the two outstanding projects which will benefit Freeport to the utmost in the future, sewers in the entire village, especially in the southern area, and the best parking field program on Long Island, were conceived during that four of duty. "I am sure of Freeport's most glorious future," sincerely stated our Village Trustee, Cord Viebrock.

Southwest Civics Backs Bus Franchise Bill Now in Albany

Acts After Ryan Tells Of Commission's Study Of Needs of the County

Members of the Southwest Civic Association meeting in Exempt Firemen's Hall Monday night, voted unanimously to endorse the bill in Albany which would give the Nassau County Board of Supervisors power to grant bus franchises following hearings by the Public Service Commission. This action was taken after former Mayor Cyril C. Ryan, a member of the Nassau County Transit Commission, had explained the provisions of the measure; and the report of the commission advocating such legislation. Mr. Ryan said the conclusions of the commission were reached after 15 months of study involving 2,000 man-hours by the best experts in their lines.

He declared that enactment of the proposed legislation would be in the best interests of Nassau County and if those opposing it succeeded in bringing about its defeat, he added, it would be up to them to substitute some plan for providing adequate bus transportation to serve the fast growing county before the present operators go into bankruptcy and chaos results. Home Rule Maintained

Mr. Ryan insisted that home rule would be maintained if the granting of bus franchises is placed in the hands of the supervisors. He told in details of the findings of the commission. He said 23,000 persons were riding into the city every morning while only 5,300 were riding in buses. He also told of the money bus companies are paying the city of New York just for the right to drive over the streets, of the high taxes and other costs which the companies cannot meet and how these costs could be reduced under a proper system of unified bus operation to serve the county was made possible.

The speaker said Diesel engine operated buses could run more economically than those of other types but only 19 such buses now were in operation. He advocated a north and south bound thoroughway just east of Freeport to the Rockaway peninsula, the length of time it now takes to get from the south shore to the north shore by present routes. He outlined in detail the recommendations of the Transit Commission. (Continued on Page 4)

Henry St. Bond Issue Of $87,000 Bid in at 1.40 P.C.; $211 Premium

The $87,000 bond issue to finance the widening of Henry st. was bid in by Ira Haupt & Co., of Manhattan, at an interest rate of 1.40 percent and a premium of $211.41, much to the satisfaction of Mayor Robert L. Dorse and other village officials.

The Freeport Bank made the second best offer—1.50 percent interest rate and $87.00 premium. Five other bids were received as follows: George B. Gibbons & Co., and Charles E. Weigold & Co., Inc., 1.50 percent and $70.10 premium; American Trust Co., 1.50 percent and $51.24; Hall & Co., 1.60 percent and $44; Bacon & Stevenson, 1.60 percent and $266; and R. H. Johnson & Co., 1.75 percent and $163.56.

Large Vote Expected To Show Confidence In Unity Party Slate

Smith and Viebrock Running Unopposed; In Tuesday's Election

Only 31 persons registered to participate in Tuesday's village election when the opportunity was afforded them Saturday due to the fact that there is only one ticket in the field and there is no doubt as to the outcome of the election. However, more than 5,000 persons are qualified to vote for Trustees Leonard Smith and Cord Viebrock, who will be returned to office as the Unity Party candidates. And if the sections of the last two or three years can be taken as an indication a large number of villagers will go to the polls to cast a vote of confidence in the administration as exemplified by the two candidates.

There will be one proposition involving an expenditure of $336.43 on which only taxpayers can vote. This is to make adjustments with the Town of Hempstead necessitated by the annexing of the Holloway st. area to the incorporated village.

The polls will be open from 7 A.M. to 9 P.M. Trustee Smith has been in office three years, and Mr. Viebrock a year, he having been appointed to serve out the unexpired term of Robert L. Dorse as trustee after his election as Mayor last year.

BAPTIST WOMEN GIVE TEA FOR KITCHEN FUND BENEFIT

A successful tea was given by the Kitchen Committee of the First Baptist Church in the home of Mrs. Wallace H. Campbell, 154 Denhoff ave., to raise fund to equip the kitchen in Fellowship House, adjoining the church. Miss Etta M. Johnson and Mrs. Frank C. Pilkins poured. On the committee for the night were Mrs. Frederick Leybold, Mrs. Frederick C. Roemer and Mrs. Campbell.

Balance of $93,000 In Village Treasury As Fiscal Year Ends

Budget Saving $46,000 Other Sources $47,000 All Tax Notes Paid Off

Freeport ended the fiscal year on Feb. 28 with a balance in the municipal treasury of $93,000 after paying off tax notes and other obligations, some of which might have been deferred until 1951, Village Treasurer Stephen W. Hunt revealed in his annual report issued this week.

This healthy financial condition was brought about by the fact that receipts from sources other than taxation, exceeded the figures set up when the 1949-50 budget was adopted by $123,000, and budgetary expenditures were $46,000 less than the appropriations allotted the various municipal departments.

From the $123,000 item, the Village Fathers paid off $76,000 in tax anticipation notes, including those due for the purchase of parking meters, the incinerator, the pumping stations for the sewer system serving the southern section of the village, parking fields, etc., so the municipality enters the new fiscal year without a cent in tax notes due on the books.

After doing all this, there still was a surplus of $47,000 from the receipts from sources other than taxation, which added to the $46,000 budgetary balance, make the total $93,000 which will be used to reduce the 1950-51 budget and consequently the tax rates.

Practically every item in the budget from receipts are obtained from the $93,000 taken in as surplus in the municipal treasury, against an anticipated $30,000. Receipts from the incinerator exceeded all expectations, and the same was true of the licenses, and so on down the line.

Red Cross Donations Total $2,500 to Date

Contributions towards Freeport's quota of $8,750 in the 1950 Red Cross Fund Raising Campaign totaled up to Tuesday, $2,500. Chairman Ray Clements announced today. These figures include only the receipts from the house-to-house canvass under the chairmanship of Miss Mary Elizabeth Schreiber, and the special gifts division, Mr. Clements added. The business and other sections which have still to make their first reports.

Chairman Clements said the donations to date had exceeded those at this time a year ago and expressed confidence Freeport would meet its quota before the drive ends.

Rigby Lands Police In Murder Solution

Tells Rotarians of Part Freepost Cops Played in Brown Case

Assistant District Attorney Moxey Rigby, gave the Freepost police a large share of the credit for the prompt solution of the murder of Herbert Baker Brown, attendant in a filling station at East Merrick and Mill roads, on the morning of Aug. 8, last, for which Alice M. Staton and William W. Bunch were convicted of murder in the first degree.

While he said he could not discuss the case in detail, because of appeals filed by the defendants, he could give some of the facts. He told of how the body was found at 6:05 o'clock, how Lieut. Arthur Wulff assigned Patrolman Jerome I. Odell from headquarters to the scene and Sgt. Raymond K. Knappe reached the station at 8:14 followed by Odell a minute later and Dr. Benjamin Fink at 8:25, while the first detective from the Nassau County Police Department arrived at 8:33.

Mr. Rigby traced the history of the case from then on to the indictment by the grand jury on Sept. 18, the trial and convictions. He described the American system under which it is seen that justice is done a defendant though he declared the tendency of some branches of the press to "sow" for the accused without thinking of the "victim," for whom no one has a word except the District Attorney and the police.

The prosecutor said the claim of "third degree" was raised in getting a confession, but added that the day when weight and brawn counted in getting confessions was over. Now, he continued, it is capable, intelligent police work that counts by outwitting the defendant. And in the Brown murder case, he declared that from the Freepost police to those in the top rank of the Nassau County department intelligence had been shown.

Mr. Rigby said that in the past one first degree murder case in Nassau County in a year was rare, but that during the past year there were such cases involving five defendants. He told of how until recent years the District Attorney tried first degree murder cases in person, while now the assistant who prepares the case sees it through to the finish.

Village Counsel Martin H. Weyrauch introduced the speaker.

The picture deals with the relationship of a child's behavior to the school and the home and how the school can play a part in molding his growth.

Northeast Civics Not Against School

Wants Cost of Building In Southwest Kept Low To Protect Tax Rate

At the monthly meeting of the Northeast Civic Association in the rathskeller of the home of Harry J. Berkowitz, 215 North Ocean ave., Arthur Olsen, delegate to the Allied Civic Council, was instructed to explain to the members of that group, that the association was not opposed to the building of a school in the Southwest section of the village as long as the tax rate for the district was not greatly increased.

Since the Board of Education is planning to erect a building consisting of eighteen class rooms with the retirement of other bonds without an auditorium or gymnasium, members expressed the opinion such a structure would cost about $800,000. They also estimated that the retirement of other bonds would almost offset the new issue, and keep the tax rate down.

It also was voted to oppose legislation providing for an increase of 50 cents in the fee for an automobile drivers license.

The association voted to request the Village Board to provide for an entrance and exit to the North Main st. parking field from Harding pl.

Business was interrupted while the members watched a ten-round boxing match and refreshments were served.

Lee Hong Made M.I.T. Basketball Captain

Honored by Teammates After Making the Jump From 'J.V.' to Varsity

Leon Hong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Hong and former Freepost High School basketball and track star, has been elected captain of the basketball team at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass., for next year. Lee, as he is popularly known, is only five feet four inches in height and weighs but 129 pounds, but he can play rings around some of the taller and weightier men in the game.

The Freepost star, now in his junior year, was on the M.I.T. Junior-Varsity team last year and to gain experience, was a member of the "J.V." team that opposed Tufts in the opening game of the season. After he accounted for 17 points during the contest, there was a hasty consultation among the basketball leaders, during which it was decided to call him back to play with the Varsity team. When he notched 7 more points, he became a fixture with the squad and continued to star with the result that at the close of the season, he was unanimously elected 1951 captain by his teammates.

Lee was captain of the E.P.H.S. basketball team three years ago. He also was a sprinter and high jumper on the track and field squad, in fact he was one of the most versatile members of the group. He also served as president of the General Organization during his senior year at Freepost. As a sophomore he was chosen as a member of the All-Nassau Hoop squad.

Born in Canton, China, Lee could not speak a word of English when he came to America and entered the sixth grade of the Archer st. school. Yet before long he was winning scholastic honors. Following his graduation he entered M.I.T. to specialize in food technology with a view to returning to China on receiving his degree to devote his life to the welfare of his fellow countrymen. He is popular at M.I.T. and president of the Chinese Students' Club. He plans to study at the University of California during the summer and will make the trip west in a station wagon presented him by his father.

Christian Science: The Law of Liberty

Lecturer's Topic Adair Hickman Speaks In First Church Here; Resume of Address

"Christian Science: The Law of Liberty," was the title of a lecture given by Adair Hickman, O.S.B., of New York, Sunday afternoon in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Mr. Hickman is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows: "Almost two thousand years ago the Apostle Paul declared, 'The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death' (Rom. 8:2)."

"Subsequent history shows that mankind's freedom has been won in the degree that the concept of God's true spiritual nature has been more and more clearly perceived, and mankind has given up the belief in a selfhood apart from God, Mind, and has sought an answer to the question, 'What is the law of liberty?'—that perfect law of which James wrote when he said, 'Whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, . . . shall be blessed in his deed' (James 1:25)."

"This perfect law, or law of divine perfection, is being demonstrated in this age as Christian Science. Indeed, its Discoverer, Mary Baker Eddy, has defined Christian Science in her book 'Fundamental Divine Science' (p. 1), 'As the law of God, the law of good, interpreting and demonstrating the divine Principle and rule of universal harmony.'"

"This Science operates as the all-governing law of God from the basis of the omnipotence and infinite goodness of God. It teaches that the entire solution of the 'problem of being' is embraced in the understanding of this law of God, of good. It demonstrates the divine Principle and rule through spiritual instruction set forth in its textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy.

"Like the Divine Principle, this Science, knowledge of divine Science is acquired by studying its textbook, obeying its teachings, and demonstrating its laws, through which is made appreciable to human consciousness God's bounty of spiritual ideas. In this way mankind learns to manifest and utilize divine Mind's infinite creation, the law governing all that actually exists. She wrote in her textbook (p. 127): 'If God, the All-in-all, be the creator of the spiritual universe, including all that is, then everything entitled to a classification as truth, or Science, must be comprised in a knowledge or understanding of God, for there can be nothing beyond illimitable divinity.'"

"Through revelation Mrs. Eddy reached the unalterable conclusion that spiritual creation is the law governing all that actually exists. She wrote in her textbook (p. 127): 'If God, the All-in-all, be the creator of the spiritual universe, including all that is, then everything entitled to a classification as truth, or Science, must be comprised in a knowledge or understanding of God, for there can be nothing beyond illimitable divinity.'"

"By obeying the laws of divine perfection, or true spiritual being, and applying them to all the injustices, restrictions, and afflictions of mortal existence, students of this Science are proving step by step the falsity of the Adam-dream, or the deceptive nature of a material sense evidence. They are dispelling the illusive claims of material sense manifested as sin, suffering, fear, and poverty, and are realizing more and more of that liberty and dominion which are the birthright of the sons of God.

"Through revelation Mrs. Eddy reached the unalterable conclusion that spiritual creation is the law governing all that actually exists. She wrote in her textbook (p. 127): 'If God, the All-in-all, be the creator of the spiritual universe, including all that is, then everything entitled to a classification as truth, or Science, must be comprised in a knowledge or understanding of God, for there can be nothing beyond illimitable divinity.'"

When apparently near the cones of mortal evidence, standing already within the shadow of the death-valley, I learned these truths in divine Science: that all real being is in God, the divine Mind, and that Life, Truth, and Love are all-powerful and ever-present; that the opposite of Truth, called error, sin, sickness, disease, death, is the false testimony of false material sense; of mind in matter; that this false sense evolves, in belief, a subjective state of mortal mind which this same so-called mind names matter, thereby shutting out the true sense of Spirit" (pp. 277, 114, 108).

Children's Theatre Performance Nets S. Nassau Auxiliary $100

Approximately $100 was realized for the Freepost Auxiliary of the South Nassau Communities Hospital by the presentation of "Divertissement" by a cast of 180 pupils of the Children's Theatre Project in the auditorium of the Columbus ave. school last Friday and Saturday nights.

Paul Fries, a vocal student, was awarded a ten-weeks' course grants for selling the most tickets to the benefit performances. The Auxiliary will donate the money to the building fund of the hospital. Wynetta Fisher and Mildred Miller directed the production.

The program was opened with "Canon Capers," a square dance, with Thomas Chester as caller, and a song by Carole Kregg, Leslie Frieberg appearing as the "Tighthin's Kid", Marilyn, and Carol Ann Pellicio as Coyotes, Marc Fenyo, "Rangin' Round" Jill Levy, Peggy Ann Morrow, Virginia Hall, Kathleen Collins and Carol Kregg, as the "Single Saddle Quinets", and Nancy Vernon and Jean Clavino in "Hi-Ho Silver". Miss Hall and Miss Collins did a Charleston and the latter a solo tap, with Chester in a rhythm dance.

"Rompin' on the Reservation" came next with Jill Levy as "Indian Chief" and then "By the Waters of Minnetonka" with Jill as dancer, Galde Miller as vocalist and Peggy Ann Morrow singing "Indian Love Song". Thirty-seven boys and girls participated in "Pass that Peace Pipe", with Miss Miller, Miss Hall and Chester as singers.

During the second half of the program the drama students presented "Mary and the Bookworm," to music composed by Frederic D. Wood. Scenes from "Little Women", "The Little Princess" and "The Red Shoes" were presented.

In the last spoken word was combined with music and the dance. The play was adapted from the Hans Christian Andersen fairy tale by Jane K. Fenyo, the choreography was done by Mme. Frances Collins, ballet mistress of the Children's Theatre, and the original music was

Coolidge P.T.A. Members Hear Talks on Health

The Coolidge Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. Irving Cohen, president, met Tuesday in the Baldwin School. Dr. Ralph Stevens, physician for the Baldwin Public Schools, and Mrs. Miriam Ayers, school nurse, spoke on "Epidemics—How Modern Medicine Combats Them."

Dr. Stevens said epidemics are not as prevalent now as they were many years ago. He lauded the teams sent out by the Board of Health during the polio outbreak this past summer. Within an hour the team, consisting of a specialist, nurse and laboratory technician, could determine whether or not the patient had polio, he added.

Mrs. Ayers gave a report on the Rheumatic Fever survey. Heart disease is the leading cause of death and rheumatic fever is far more prevalent than polio in school children, and in New York State it is a reportable disease, she explained.

Prior to the discussion the parents were entertained by the second and third grade symphony players. Under the leadership of Mrs. Mildred Thomas, the children played "After The Ball," "Lucky Old Sun" and "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Winners of the Parent-Teacher association's annual safety poster contest received their awards from Mrs. Irving Cahn, president. They included Susan Cahn, daughter of the president.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Book Reviewed by Mrs. White

At the monthly meeting of the Freeport Bookreview Group in the Memorial Library Monday night, Mrs. Maurice E. White reviewed Eleanor Roosevelt's latest book, "This I Remember." She said that it was difficult to review a book by Mrs. Roosevelt without being influenced by the position she has held. Mrs. White felt that the book gave an excellent portrait of President Roosevelt as Politician, President, husband, father and friend. She added that although she was an admirer of Mrs. Roosevelt there had been many questions she had often wished might be answered.

Questions such as "To what extent did Mrs. Roosevelt's life follow a pattern of her own choosing?" What was the influence of Mrs. James Roosevelt on Franklin's family? What about those numerous trips Mrs. Roosevelt made when most of the public felt she should have been in the White House; and so on.

Mrs. White said she felt Eleanor Roosevelt had had a sad time and a hard life. Although she has been hurt by the weakness and instability of her children, she, none-the-less, feels every human being should have the opportunity to be himself, even though it means learning the hard way.

He told of how some bus routes compete with the "railroad" while others which should be "feeders" sometimes go within a block of a station without touching it. He also recited in details the recommendations made by the Transit Commission for bringing about a unified bus system if the necessary legislation is enacted and the county has the power to grant franchises instead of 68 individual communities having jurisdiction as is now the case.

Mr. Ryan's talk was so convincing that former President William Allyn moved that the association go on record as approving of the Transit Commission's recommendations. And the vote on the question was unanimous.

President William Allyn presided at the meeting. Refreshments were served at the close.

Misfortune Befalls Pianist Violin Recital Is Improvised

The audience that enjoyed the violin recital by Joseph Fuchs, accompanied by Arthur Balsam, in the Freeport High School, third of the 1949-50 series sponsored by the Freeport Community Concert Association, was given a demonstration of how resourceful musicians can be in meeting a difficult situation.

Mr. Balsam, accompanist for Nathan Millstein, Gino Francescotti, another noted violinist, is a neighbor of Mr. Fuchs, who had turned all the music for the program over to him. Mr. Balsam left the house to go on an errand before starting for Freeport and inadvertently left his keys on the inside of the door. On returning home, he discovered the situation. He could not get back into his apartment nor could he obtain permission to have the door taken off its hinges. And he was attired in business clothes. But there was nothing he could do about it.

Before starting for Freeport he visited a few friends picking up pieces of music here and there, but not enough for the full program arranged. Consequently it was necessary to provide an impromptu program substituting various numbers, to improvise others, the pianist sometimes playing from violin music and vice-versa and getting along as well as possible.

Mr. Fuchs explained the situation to the audience for the embarrassed Mr. Balsam before beginning the program. Only two of the scheduled numbers were played, Max Bruch, concerto in G minor, and Beethoven's First Sonata for the violin. Among the substitute selections was the introduction to "Rondo Capriccioso" by Emile Saint Saens.

However, the evening proved an enjoyable one with added zest that would not have been possible had everything gone off as planned.

The next and final recital will be by Whittemore and Lowe, two pianists, on Tuesday night, April 25.

Johannemann And Tomko V.F.W. Commander Rivals

Contests for the three major offices of Henry Theodore Mohr Post, V.F.W., resulted when Commander Dominic Pellicio, who has headed the organization for three successive years, declined a renomination at the first March meeting.

Edward Johannemann, present senior vice-commander, and George Tomko are the rivals for the command. Dr. S. Raymond Strauss, present junior vice-commander and Donald Gaynor are opposed for senior vice-commander, with Edward Tunstall and Clifford Combs pitted against each other for junior vice-commander.

Candidates for other offices are Gunther Edstead, chaplain; Elihu Bernman, judge advocate; Harry Moore, quartermaster; Dr. Benjamin Pink, surgeon; and Mr. Pellicio, three-year trustees.

Mr. Tomko, chairman of the committee of arrangements for the annual dinner dance to be resumed after a lapse of several years because of the attempts to raise funds for a Memorial building, announced it had been decided to hold the event in the Elks clubhouse Saturday night, May 13. He also reported that instead of issuing a journal, several pages of advertisements would be obtained for publication in an evening of fun tomorrow night.

Redecoration of the building on Atlantic ave. is under way and will be completed with the painting of the exterior shortly. Dedication exercises are to be conducted late in April when a plaque will be placed in the main meeting room.

Women's Group Plans Card Party

The Freeport Republican Club already has a paid up membership of 552 for 1950. Mrs. Edythe Sheehan, membership chairman, reported at the monthly meeting Thursday night in the Legion Dugout. In as much as the returns from the renewal notices have just begun to come in, the report was considered an excellent one.

Mrs. Mabel Reiner, second vice-president and chairman of the women's committee, announced plans for a card party to be given in the Elks clubhouse on Friday night, April 21.

A representative of Alcoholics Anonymous gave the address of the evening. Though he had not fallen to the depths of many who finally turn to "A.A.," the speaker said he had been a drinker for 25 years, for 15 of which he "could take it or leave it," the next five were unpleasant years with conditions growing gradually worse the next five when he didn't co-operate, in fact "couldn't co-operate." However, when he became associated with people whom he understood and who understood his predicament "I felt a burden lifted from my shoulders because they understood me," he continued.

Before going to "A.A.," the speaker said he had four hospital experiences which served, no useful purpose "because a doctor can sober up an alcoholic but he can't keep him sober." Clergymen did their best, too, to no avail. Results of "A.A." show alcoholism can be "arrested" the same as diabetes and tuberculosis can be arrested, but not cured, as the treatment must be continued, the speaker commented.

He said that of those who turn to "A.A." for relief, 50 percent generally get results at the outset with from 20 to 30 percent of the remainder returning during the next five years are restored to normal productive lives.

Desire of a person himself to stop drinking was the only requirement for admission, he said. The movement started in 1941 by two persons in Akron, O., now has a membership of 100,000. He said "Each unit is an independent group. There are no dues, but members contribute to a fund to maintain offices with telephones to which addicts seeking relief can refer to ascertain where the nearest branch is located."

The speaker told of the office maintained at 214 Lexington ave., Manhattan, to which a person applying for a member to call on him, will receive a response within a matter of minutes as men were available at all hours of the day or night for this purpose. He said the "A.A." had 18 beds in the Knickerbocker Hospital, Manhattan, for alcoholics, who are admitted for a stay of five days, only on the application of a member and may be visited during that time only by a member. Accommodations also are available in St. John's Hospital, Brooklyn. The purpose of the hospitalization is to permit the patient to sober up so he will know what he is doing when he comes out.

Postmen Could Get Accurate Census

Officials in charge of taking the 1950 census starting on April 1 are making elaborate plans for obtaining an accurate enumeration of the people of the nation. However, as long as the present set up of making census taking a political job for which only members of one party are named as enumerators, nowhere near a perfect count can be obtained.

People are loathe to give information to absolute strangers. And when people are out when numerous calls are made some family is sure to be omitted from the tabulation.

We long ago voiced the opinion that a census could be taken much more effectively and economically if the task was assigned to the postmen of a community. Everyone is friendly with the postman and he is familiar with many of the details concerning the families on his route. He knows the number of persons in each family and other facts that no stranger ever could ascertain. Substitute carriers could deliver the mail while the regulars were taking the census.

The regular fee allowed enumerators could be paid to the postmen giving them a substantial bonus every four years, the postmaster could supervise the enumeration in his community and some of the overhead salaries now paid for supervision could be eliminated. Why not set plans in motion for transferring the taking of the census to the letter carriers in 1960?

REFLECTIONS

By Edmund R. Wernicke

"Such Is Life . . ."

Such is life . . . that only cruel experience shall yield a grain of truth, and knowledge is a paltry gain—through pain—to offer youth; for the wreckage lying here about are the castles youth intended; but truth is slow—and here about lie dreams that can't be mended.

Yes, such is life—far better alike the pregnant vows—far better left unspoken—and but a few may reach the crest, to find those vows unbroken; the rest shall stumble with their cross, and wonder in their trust—till gain is mingled with the loss, and are as one . . . in dust.

Mrs. Jos. Marino Heads Seaman Ave. P-T-A. Slate

Mrs. Joseph Marino was nominated to succeed Mrs. Clement Winter, who is serving her second year, as president of the Seaman Ave. School Parent-Teacher Association, at the March meeting held in the school.

The rest of the slate is as follows: Mrs. Adolph Ringer and Mrs. Russell Vanservet for vice-presidents; Mrs. Leonard D. B. Smith, recording secretary; Mrs. Glenn Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jules Crebner, treasurer, and Mrs. Everett Thayer, historian.

Dr. William Calvin Barger, head of the Child Guidance Bureau of the New York City Department of Education gave a talk on the subject, "Parents Are Human Too." He said the "emotionally" mature adult had "channelized" his aggressiveness constructively, and doesn't attempt to, but children seek to evade hostility, and it is time to teach them to handle it.

Dr. Barger also said that the degree of "badness" in a child depends on the temperament of the adult judging the child. There was a sale of cookies for the benefit of the Cub Scout Pack with Mrs. Harry Purnell in charge. Members of the association were invited to attend the showing of a film, "Families First" for faculty members in the Visual Education room on Wednesday at 3:15 P.M.

The Leader Bookshelf

By MRS. ELIZABETH F. KELLY
Librarian, Freeport Memorial Library

Born into dire poverty, Thirza Gare, in "Behold Thy Daughter" by Neil Patterson, gained success, and much prominence. But for a short time only" as the old Arabic poem says.

This is the story of a small town, Kaysie, Scotland, and its fisherfolk and gentry. By wandering through the woods with Dave, the dog, Thirza, sees the other side of life—the life of ease and comfort, servants and plenty of food. Thereupon is born a desire to advance beyond her own station in life.

Before too many years Thirza goes into service in this same luxurious home. Through the Dominick in exchange for her help in cleaning his home, Thirza has been introduced into the world of books.

Here at Carmichael House, she finds their library and Manson, the housekeeper, who is to be a real friend for many a year. There is a misunderstanding and Thirza and Manson return to the Village to live. The fishing industry is the means of livelihood. Thirza seeks employment, studying her job, trying hard to be the best worker in her field. The desire for better things makes her seek a clerkship in a field as yet untainted by a woman. That is the beginning of her success ladder and some happiness. The urge for money and power brings her many problems.

This is an entertaining novel giving a picture of life not often found in fiction. This book will send you into gales of laughter and make your fellow-commuters wonder if you're "teched in the head." It's a refreshing account of daily living with children and students of different schools of Child Psychology will be delighted at this Father's open mind and willingness to try them all.

It might seem impossible that so much could happen to just one man and his family. But taken over a year and a half, it probably could. There's no doubt about it. Mr. Toombs has a flair for comedy, a fine sense for drama and is a real teller of tales. Your reviewer recommends this book as an excellent one for any member of the family and suggests it as a good read-aloud book especially to counteract some of television's less desirable.

We not only thank Mr. Toombs for so many moments of delightful and hilarious fun but we doff our hat to his courage and unflinching sense of humor. We can only wish that every child might have the benefit of such close living and shared experiences with his Father. Probably then he, too, would wear the contented and happy expressions of Larry, Lynn and Jane as pictured in the jacket of "Raising a Riot."

Explains Liquid Oxygen

At Freeport H.S. Assembly

Dr. Paul C. Saunders, professor of chemistry at Alfred University, demonstrated the properties of liquid oxygen at a Quaker High School assembly program Thursday afternoon. Liquid oxygen, at a temperature of 300 degrees Fahrenheit, possesses the ability to freeze almost anything, including vegetable and animal matter and substances which are ordinarily liquid, to the point where they shatter like glass, the speaker said.

Dr. Saunders demonstrated this property by immersing such items as grapes, rubber tubing and a hot dog in the liquid oxygen and then breaking them with a hammer. By freezing mercury or quicksilver he produced the solid metal, which, when put on the end of a stick, he used as a hammer to drive "nails" of frozen rubber into a board.

The illustration of the rapid evaporation of liquid oxygen, Dr. Saunders placed some in a test tube and covered the tube with a rubber balloon. The evaporating oxygen quickly filled and burst the balloon. Demonstrated were helium and hydrogen, which he compared as to flammability.

The professor explained the processing of air to liquify it, the history of liquification of gases and the uses, present and possible, of the liquids. Students in chemistry classes discussed the demonstration during the remainder of the day.

Freeport's community theatre, THE CURTAIN CALLERS, have successfully endeavored, with four good shows in the last year, to bring the best in amateur productions to the residents of this vicinity. BRUCE QUAYLE (22 Pearl Ave.) is manager and HENRY N. BURNETT (of Freeport High School), director, of this enthusiastic group of thespians. Tomorrow and Saturday night they will present Tennessee Williams' Pulitzer Prize production "A Streetcar Named Desire" in the Seaman Ave. School Auditorium. They've been great in the past, but since this is their first attempt at a two-night show, the full support of those who enjoy the theatre is requested. (Make it a must on your entertainment list: This Fri. and Sat., "The Glass Menagerie" in the Seaman Ave. School.) . . . And don't miss the IRISH NIGHT of the Holy Name Society and Redeemer School Auxiliary in the S.S.V.C. tomorrow night.

EDITORIALS . . . Many of Freeport's organizations lead the field because of the spirit of friendliness that prevails; the effectiveness of their committees and the guidance of the executives. FREEPORT LODGE B.P.O.E. No. 1253, located on West Merrick rd., has one of the most beautiful buildings, not only in Nassau, but throughout the country. Its clubhouse is used by so many other organizations that it serves as a community location for events. This veteran organization, lists some of the greatest names in all fields of endeavor, judges, doctors, lawyers, public officials, industrialists, businessmen, etc., on its membership roll of nearly fifteen hundred, and yet, wealth and position are forgotten at the door, and all members become true brothers. The massive beauty and respectful somberness of the Lodge Room, the huge television set, and the billiard room and bowling alley, are but few of the pleasures offered. (George Berns replicated as next Exalted Ruler to succeed Rene Carreau.)

FREEPORT REPUBLICAN CLUB with its ever increasing membership (1,500 goal set), is the backbone of political activity. It is recognized as a leader, not only in Nassau County and New York State, but also nationally, because its committees plan programs and activities which are fresh and interesting. The guest speakers are men who attract and hold audiences, and the executives and committee members devote countless hours and leave no stone unturned in their sincere efforts to make this a successful club. Whether Republican or Democrat, any organization that enjoys such a wonderful reputation should be congratulated. (Ralph L. Marshall serves as president.)

FREEPORT CIVIC ASSOCIATIONS . . . It was your reporter's pleasure to meet and speak to the members of the Northeast (Arthur R. Muller, pres.) and Southwest (William Allyn, pres.), Civic Associations and now the Atlantic South Civic extends another home to be their guest on April 6th. Activity by civic organizations is a sign of a healthy community. Lack of this interest would be detrimental and so these groups and the Northeast Civic Association, should be publicly commended for their meritorious work. (Side note to Pres. Bill Watson of TASCOA: Our humble thanks; we'll be there.)

FREEPORTING THE NEWS . . . Are the JOE GALLOS (Fpt. Chevy) ready to take off on their annual "See America First" motor trip? . . . Holy Redeemer Parish shows song-and-dance man, PETE KIMBLE, ready to move his chair to their new home. . . . Best joke of the week: (newspaper headlines) "Russia Millions go to Polls, All Vote 'Yes'." (Oh yeah, with a gun in their back!) . . . RAYMOND FINN of 35 North Grove st., was a passenger in the auto demolished by LIRE Sunday 400 yards from disastrous Feb. 17 wreck which took the life of Mrs. HOWARD MUNRO, Publicity Director of Freeport Central Council of Jewish People. Mrs. FINN announces plans for gala "Night of Stars" variety presentation for May 1. Top names of stage, screen and radio slated to donate their services for this worthy (Student Aid Loan Fund) cause.

DURYEA ORCHID OF THE WEEK . . . We wish to thank HARRY CARMAN, MISS ADA CHEESMAN, and MURRAY EVANS, top executives of Radio Station WGBB for submitting this week's nominee for the DURYEA ORCHID CREATION award. Apologizing for the lack of time to find out her name, we do however take great pleasure in offering this flower token of public appreciation to the very thoughtful blonde who is employed in the BOHACK store on S. Grove st. Our attention was called to the fact that this woman has gone out of her way in remembering our feathered friends and stray animals by always providing them with food. Madame, it will be an honor to meet you. Those who have noticed your acts of kindness join me in saying "God Bless You."

Frozen Foods for Israel-bound Test

FIRST FROZEN FOOD FLOWN TO ISRAEL—William R. Hoffmann (left), head of catering in the hotel management school of the State University of New York, hands TWA Hostess Jean Wallace twenty-five pounds of frozen fruits and vegetables—the first ever sent to Israel—for air shipment to the Holy Land's first hotel management school at Tel Aviv. Looking on are Dr. Miriam Freund, vocational chairman of Hadassah, Women's Zionist Organization of America, which operates the Tel Aviv school, and Walter B. Bruce (right), advertising manager of the H. C. Bohack Co., which contributed the entire line of frozen foods.

Twenty-five pounds of frozen fruits and vegetables—the first ever sent to the Holy Land—were put aboard an Israel-bound TWA liner recently at LaGuardia Field. Thus in 48 hours, something new and historic was added to the cuisine of Israel—frozen foods, "American Style."

The frozen vegetables, packed and insulated with dry ice and including everything from broccoli to strawberries, arrived in Jerusalem on Sunday in time to be served at a model dinner, prepared by the students of the Hotel Management Institute, operated by Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America.

Dr. Miriam Freund, vocational chairman for Hadassah, said the introduction of frozen foods could conceivably bring about revolutionary changes in the hotel and catering industries in Israel. This is why this experiment is being watched with great interest by food and hotel experts there.

The food was made available through the cooperation of the State University of New York, Institute of Applied Arts and Sciences, 300 Pearl st., Brooklyn, and the H. C. Bohack Co., which contributed an entire line of frozen foods for the experiment.

Enclosed in the cargo was a note from William R. Hoffmann, head of catering in the hotel department of the State Institute to the chief of the Hadassah Hotel School, saying "we hope this experimental cargo of food will play a significant role in the expansion of Israel's hotel and restaurant industries." Two months ago the State Institute sent Sam B. Isman, head of its hotel department to help Hadassah found the Holy Land's first hotel management school.

Those serving on the executive committee as chairmen from the various organizations are Mrs. Elzhu Berns, representative of the Sisterhood of Congregation; Mrs. William Miller, Hadassah; Mrs. Moe Green, East Nassau Section, Council of Jewish Women; Mrs. Alfred Katz, Justice Chapter, B'nai B'rith, and Mrs. Barney Fyvolent, Unity Temple, Pythian Sisters.

W. H. Blume Retires As Elks Tiler After 25 Years; Berns Heads Slate

William H. Blume, sr., tiler of Freeport Lodge B.P.O. Elks for 25 years, and 85 years old, has declined a renomination because he says he wants to see more of the actual workings of the lodge during the years he is able to attend the meetings. Fred Dealy has been nominated for the office.

George W. Berns has received the nomination for exalted ruler, J. George Glynn, esteemed leading knight; Benjamin J. Reiner, esteemed loyal knight; Dr. Fred T. Bean, esteemed lecturing knight; William J. Kell, treasurer; William J. Murphy, secretary; Thomas N. DeGiacomo, trustee for five years; and retiring Exalted Ruler Rene A. Carreau, delegate to grand lodge functions.

Eldridge night will be observed next Thursday night and a class of candidates will be initiated on Thursday night, March 30.

At last Thursday night's meeting, Exalted Ruler Carreau appointed a committee of five, including District Deputy H. Alfred Vollmer, to invite the four other lodges in Nassau County to participate in Joint Flag Day exercises on Wednesday night, June 14 at the local Municipal Stadium. Mr. Berns was delegated to extend the invitation at a group meeting to be held Tuesday night, April 4. If the plan is adopted, the Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and other local organizations will be invited to participate.

The lodge of sorrow was observed for Edward B. Ray, a member who died recently. An appeal for blood donors was issued in behalf of Henry W. Pemberton, who is a patient in the Meadowbrook Hospital.

George Beitterick's King Fish Catch Earns Him Ft. Lauderdale Award

George Beitterick has a new trophy to add to the decorations on the wall of the Poop Deck, a citation received from the Fort Lauderdale (Florida) Fishing Festival, for landing a four foot king fish weighing 31 pounds on Feb. 25. It is signed by Capt. Jim Coward of the Taxway; W. May, the official weighmaster; William Schantz, and George T. Hovey, committee officials.

Capt. Coward commands the Rebel for Jack Carle which docks at the Poop Deck during the summer season. Mr. Beitterick was accompanied by a party of Freeporters including his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bates and Buddy Reeves aboard the Taxway when he made the catch that earned him the citation.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET Butterflies, Beetles, Cyanide Make a 'Surprise' Vengeance

By BILLY ROSE

When Martin Quint, 71, married Ellie Reynolds, 34, their friends in Nyack didn't give the union much chance of success. Five years later, however, they were ready to admit they had been wrong—Ellie was doing a good job of taking care of Martin, and as for the old cool—well, he was a lot friendlier than anyone had ever thought possible.

On their fifth anniversary, Martin sent Ellie to New York on an errand, filled the parlor with gifts and paper curlicues, and invited a dozen neighbors in for a surprise party.

The plan was for a lookout at the railroad depot to phone when he saw Ellie get off the train, and then they would turn out the lights and hide. When Ellie walked in and turned them on again, everyone would yell, "Surprise!"

Well, what happened was a surprise, all right, but there was no yelling. As the front door opened, Quint and his guests heard Ellie whisper, "Ssssh! He's coming!"

"I don't like this sneaking around," said the voice of a man. "Why don't you ask him for a divorce?"

"Think I'm crazy? He doesn't figure to live much longer, and I'm pretty sure to get the savings and insurance. Thanks for taking me home. See you Tuesday at the regular time."

Then Ellie closed the door and switched on the lights.

AFTER THE embarrassed guests had left, she said to her husband, "I suppose you want me to pack."

"Why should I?" said Martin. "It's only human nature for you to take up with someone nearer your own age."

"Don't you want a divorce?"

"Not unless you insist on it. All I ask is that you stop seeing the young man as long as I'm alive. If you'll agree and put it in writing, I'll fix it so you'll get every cent I've got."

And that's how it was arranged. An agreement was signed and inked in the wall safe, and the couple went on living together.

Of course, the neighbors gossiped a lot, particularly when it was whispered around that Ellie was still seeing the young man, but their talk seemed to make no impression on Martin. Instead, he busied himself with a new hobby—the study of insects—and spent most of his waking hours in a spare room over the garage, mounting butterflies and beetles on small exhibit boards. "I wouldn't mention this around," he told his wife. "As it is, people think I'm not quite all there."

One evening, just after Ellie had brought him the usual glass of warm milk, Martin began to have convulsions. Ellie phoned the doctor that her husband was having a heart attack, but by the time he arrived the old man was dead. The doctor examined the body, then called the coroner, and an hour later the corpse, together with the empty milk glass, was taken away.

EARLY the following morning, a detective rang Ellie's doorbell. "I have a warrant for your arrest," he said. "According to the coroner, your husband died of cyanide poisoning, and the drug-store in town reports that you injected the cyanide to kill the insects he was studying. There are hundreds of specimens in the laboratory over the garage."

"That's right," said Ellie. "Martin used the cyanide to kill the insects he was studying. There are hundreds of specimens in the laboratory over the garage."

"I never heard of his being interested in bugs," said the detective. "Can I see this laboratory?"

Ellie led the way up the garage stairs and opened the door. There was nothing in the room but a few bits of junk and an old bicycle.

"I'm sorry, but you'll have to come along," said the detective. "You're the only person who figured out to profit by Mr. Quint's death."

"I swear I didn't do it," said Ellie. "Both Martin and I knew he wouldn't live long, and we signed an agreement which explains everything. It's in his study."

She ran into the house, opened the wall safe and took out a brown envelope, but when she tore it open there was nothing inside but a piece of blank paper.

Blank, that is, except for one word penciled in a childish scrawl: "Surprise!"
